Additionally, Tangram's Benefit Information Network (BIN) Liaisons can help jobseekers analyze their Social Security benefits.

Behavioral Consulting

Our Behavior Consulting approach begins with a thorough Functional Behavioral Assessment (FBA). We then develop a uniquely customized Behavioral Support Plan (BSP). After completing the BSP, we offer training to the individual and their support team to implement the plan which includes teaching the skills and resources needed to allow the individual to have the meaningful and productive life they dream of.

Autism Services

At the Connie J. Dillman Center for Autism and Behavioral Health, we understand that a diagnosis is not the end; it's the beginning! It's the first step in acknowledging and understanding how an individual's mind works and giving him or her the resources needed to succeed. Whether you are a child, teenager or youth adult, we work with an individuals current developmental stage to create a path to understanding their unique qualities.

HELP Resource Center

The HELP Resource Center is an information and referral system that can help individuals identify and access community resources. We address needs that are integral to overall quality of life - housing, healthcare, basic needs, finances, etc. - knowing that when a person achieves stability in these areas, they are better able to focus on achieving their goals.
